The customer, the requirements, the solution

The state and university library is the central library of the Hamburg university's library system which is a central library of the Hamburg colleges and is the state library of the Free and Hanseatic City of Hamburg. With its inventory and information services it serves as "scientific and cultural memory" of science, culture, education and the professional work and further education.

As a state library it has the legal instruction for collecting and archiving publications published in Hamburg and official publications, and it is collecting completely literature referring to Hamburg and the region.

The library's inventory comprises 3.007.000 volumes, 7.366 occidental scripts, (additionally approx. 1.500 lost ones), 1.513 oriental sripts and 2.869 music scripts. The collecting areas come from the fields of the scientific subjects, Hamburgensien and from the special collecting areas of the German Research Council.
